Hey Ford, we're writing something about this potential ethics hearing that Sen. Rabon requested today. In his request he mentions the possibility of subpoenas if legislative leaders don't get the documents they're requesting from you all.

I was wondering if you all would argue that you have given the legislature what they're asking for so far, and also if the legislature even has the power to subpoena the governor.

Also would like to get your general reaction to this news.

Thanks.

Will
